greenteQ iQ Superior Shootbolt

Superior, from the greenteQ iQ range of casement window locking systems that work with Kubu, is a high security shootbolt locking system for Eurogroove window systems.

It combines two bi-directional hooks on the gearbox, with adjustable mushroom-headed cams and shootbolts on the extensions to provide exceptional security performance and weather proofing on windows with sash rebate sizes up to 1500mm.

Long life is guaranteed, as the product has been tested to over 50,000 open/close cycles, and the plated finish meets the requirements of BS EN 1670:2007 grade 4 (240 hours – 'Very high corrosion resistance').

iQ Superior is available in an 'Easy Access' version, where the fitting of a short bottom extension (2QWE3411) fixes the handle height at 200mm, making operation more easily accessible to all.

There is a choice of industry-standard 20 and 22mm backsets, with 7.7 and 9mm mushroom cam options, so Superior is suitable for use on most profile systems currently popular in the UK.

iQ Superior shootbolts work with Kubu to link windows to a smart home network. This gives the user a host of benefits, including a live check on the open/closed status of windows, security alerts, weather alerts and more. The windows can even be linked to other elements in the network, so the heating can be set to turn off in a room if a window is opened, for example.

iQ Superior shootbolts are covered by the greenteQ 10 year guarantee.
